Our source of pride

Dr. Oktay Duran Vocational and Technical Anatolian High School

We set out with the belief that the biggest investment to be made in the sector depends on increasing the motivation of people and employees, and we established Dr. Oktay Duran Vocational and Technical Anatolian High School provides education to 1000 students. In the pursuit of innovations, by making investments that add value to the sector, we become the guide of future generations and continue to meet all the needs of students and support them.

“The important thing is not the places, not the institutions, but the function of the institutions, the practices and the qualified training of the people who receive training.”

– Dr. Oktay Duran
