HELICHRYSUM ANTI-AGE

MIRACULOUS PLANT Helichrysum

SKIN REGENERATIVE ANTI-AGING

Mankind, who has been healing with the essences of plants for thousands of years, has called the same plant with different names in different geographies and different times, and the helichrysum plant is one of them. While its scientific name derives from the Greek words "helios" (sun) and "kryos" (gold), it is called an immortal flower because it remains intact even when plucked due to a compound found in its stems. In our country, it grows mostly on dry, rocky or sandy ground in the Mediterranean region, and as our hero, another local name, sun grass, needs the sun a lot and forms semi-shrubs that can reach a height of about 50 cm. 500 different species of this plant have been identified so far.

The oil of the immortelle is obtained from the flowering tops of the plant. Approximately 1 liter of flower oil is obtained from 350 kg of plants. The harvested plants are distilled in the distillation units. The essential oil, which is removed from the plant by steam, is condensed and thus reaches its purest form.

One of the important functions of immortelle oil on the skin is that it is one of the essential oils that have an anti-aging effect against skin aging with its cell regenerative feature. This is one of the most important reasons why it is preferred in cosmetic care products.

Immortal Flower oil, which is quickly absorbed, nourishes and cares for the skin by being included in the skin metabolism, offers 100% natural and effective skin care.

In addition to its anti-aging effects, it protects the skin from the harmful effects of UV rays and is effective in repairing the skin layer damaged by UV. It provides a younger, lively, dynamic and bright skin appearance by renewing the cells against cell wear that may occur on the skin surface due to skin dryness.

Cosmetic products obtained from this plant are not only effective against cell aging, but also prevent harmful bacteria on your skin and factors that cause inflammation with its wound-healing, anti-inflammatory, antifungal, antibacterial and antioxidant properties. In addition, it is known that the oils of this plant are used for cell regeneration against spots on the skin surface and sunburns.

Importance of Prebiotics for Our Health

Prebiotics strengthen the skin barrier

We can think of it as strengthening our skin barrier, which is worn out in daily life, protecting our skin from external factors that damage it, and making our skin immune. Thanks to prebiotics, our weakened system is repaired and now becomes more durable.

Prebiotics protect the skin from bad bacteria.

The good bacteria fight the bad bacteria, it's that simple. It tries to protect our skin from bacteria that damage our skin, disrupt the pH balance, and reach our skin through various means.

It reduces redness.

Prebiotics, known as beneficial bacteria, help your skin, which is reddened for any reason or irritated, to fight all these sensitivities.

It increases the humidity.

It helps prevent the loss of moisture that we try to compensate by drinking water. In this way, it helps to soften your skin and reduce tension. It can be evaluated to relieve the skin from dryness.

It accelerates the production of collagen in the skin.

It plays a major role in cell regeneration, thanks to the acceleration of collagen production by beneficial bacteria. In this way, while contributing to the repair of your skin, it allows your skin to look fresher than it is and revitalize it.

As a result of preserving the moisture content in the skin, prebiotics help to relieve the tension in the skin and prevent wrinkles.

It makes the skin look fuller than it is.

Thanks to the lively appearance that prebiotics create on the skin, they make our skin look more vigorous and lively than it is. Thanks to prebiotics, we can get rid of the depression and fatigue on our face due to the external factors we are exposed to in daily life.

Prebiotics reduce the signs of aging.

As a result of preserving the moisture content of the skin, it helps to relieve the tension in the skin and prevent wrinkles.

Prebiotics maintain the pH balance.

Maintaining the pH balance is very important for our skin health. The wrong skin care products that we use over time can cause this balance to deteriorate. It helps you maintain the pH balance.

Collagen BB Cream

ES-El BB cream 8 in 1 allows the skin to breathe thanks to its light structure that does not depend on the feeling of a thick layer like ordinary foundations. The skin is moisturized and nourished throughout the day. It covers imperfections caused by acne, acne scars, sunlight or other skin differences.

ES-El BB cream 8 in 1 permite que la piel respire gracias a su estructura ligera que no depende de la sensación de una capa espesa como las bases de maquillaje ordinarias. La piel está hidratada y nutrida durante todo el día. Cubre las imperfecciones causadas por el acné, las cicatrices del acné, la luz solar u otras diferencias en la piel.
