Türkiye

Türkiye is distinguished by a unique geographical location with stunning natural beauty and a rich history marked by cultural diversity. As a host to many great civilizations and nations, the ancient and deep culture of Türkiye continues to evolve under the influence of Europe and Asia.

This cultural blend is reflected in various aspects of social life, offering a mix of tradition and modernity. International students will get to experience the beauty of Turkish culture and gain a fresh perspective by adding it to their own cultural background. Their education, social and practical lives will also be impacted by this fusion.

With a population of over 84 million and a multicultural mosaic, anyone can easily integrate into Turkish society in Türkiye.

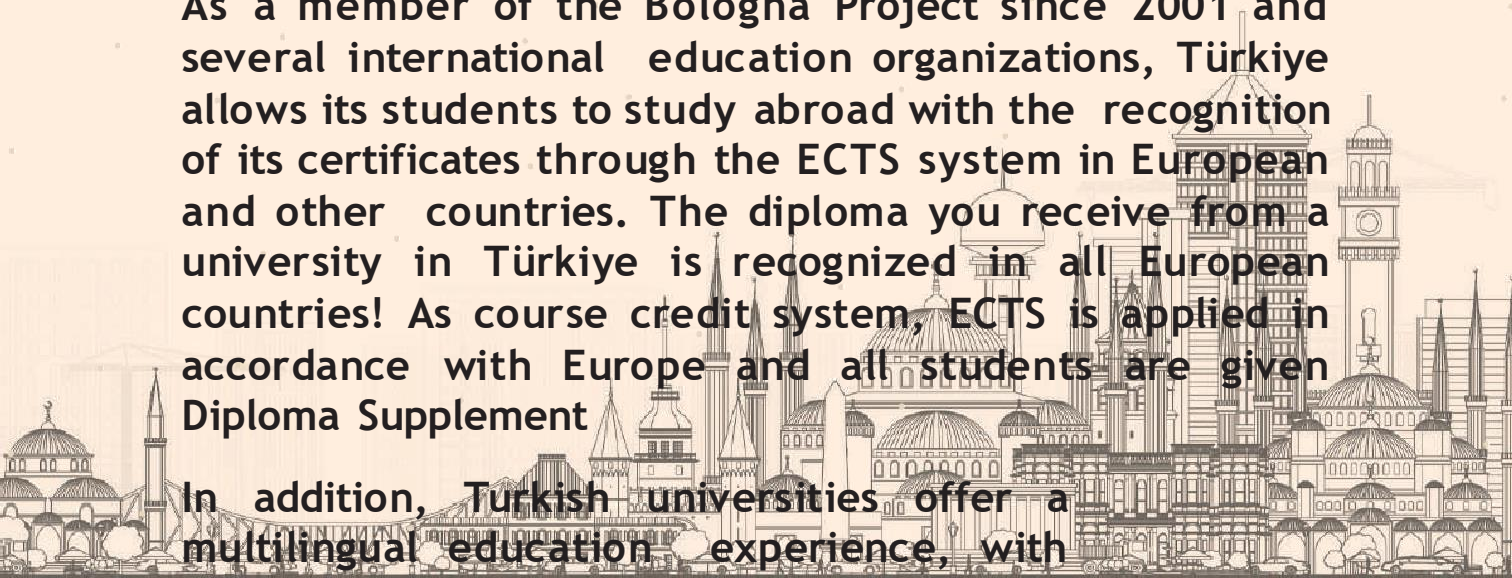

Study in Türkiye

Türkiye is undergoing a major transformation in higher education with a growing number of universities, research centers, and academics, and a policy of internationalizing education. Recently, the number of international students studying at Turkish universities has surged, and with over 260,000 international students, Türkiye is now one of the countries with the largest international student population in the world.

With over 200 public institutions and universities, Türkiye offers a wide range of higher education options, including associate, bachelor's, master's, doctoral programs, colleges, institutes, vocational schools, and conservatories.

As a member of the Bologna Project since 2001 and several international education organizations, Türkiye allows its students to study abroad with the recognition of its certificates through the ECTS system in European and other countries. The diploma you receive from a university in Türkiye is recognized in all European countries! As course credit system, ECTS is applied in accordance with Europe and all students are given Diploma Supplement

In addition, Turkish universities offer a multilingual education experience, with

Studying in Türkiye offers more than just an academic degree

1. Study with high standards

The advancement in Turkish higher education provides ample opportunities for international students. With top-notch faculty and education quality, Turkish universities equip students with the skills in high demand globally.

2. A globally recognized certificate

Türkiye is a part of the Bologna Project since 2001 and a member of many international education organizations, enabling its students to further their education abroad with recognition of their certificates in Europe and other countries through the ECTS system. The diploma you receive from a university in Türkiye is recognized in all European countries! As course credit system, ECTS is applied in accordance with Europe and all students are given Diploma Suplemen

3. Friendly environment and cultural diversity

Discover the richness of Turkish culture while studying here. With its diverse mix of cultures, religions, friendly people, lifestyles, delicious cuisine, and unique geography bridging Europe and Asia, Türkiye offers a unique window into both the Western and Eastern worlds.

4. Appropriate tuition costs

Türkiye offers cost-effective study and living options for international students, ranking low on the list of expensive cities to live in according to the 2022 Mercer Foundation report. Tuition and living expenses in Türkiye are more affordable compared to other countries.

5. Developed universities with excellent facilities

Universities in Türkiye offer cutting-edge facilities that promote student growth and development in both academic and cultural areas. These institutions boast integrated libraries and cutting-edge laboratories, as well as other amenities such as banks, ATMs, restaurants, shopping centers, sports facilities, student housing, clubs, beauty salons, and stationery stores, among others, providing students with all the necessary resources right on campus.

6. The road to your dream job

Türkiye is becoming a leading economy globally, with an increase in international companies and agreements between Turkish and international firms, and a yearly hosting of hundreds of international exhibitions and conferences. These opportunities provide students a chance to work in one of these firms, making Türkiye a country of opportunities for international students.

Admission requirements and required documents

Admission requirements for Turkish universities vary based on the type of university (public or private) and program. Public universities may require an admission exam (YÖS) for undergraduates, or acceptance may be based on international exams (SAT, ACT, IB) or high school average.

For graduate programs, some universities require specific admission exams (GMAT, GRE, ALES), while others consider the student's university graduation rate.

Private universities typically accept students based on high school or university graduation certificates without an entrance exam.

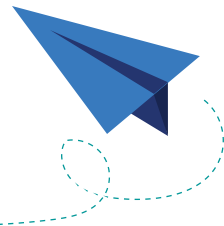

Important Notes:

- Since applications are done electronically, documents must be prepared in PDF format, and after obtaining admission, registration at the university is done in person or through a power of attorney and with the original documents.
- The high school certificate and transcripts (all years of secondary school) must be attested by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in your country.
- Documents must be translated into Turkish by a translator accredited to the Embassy of the Republic of Türkiye in your country or by a translator accredited to the Notary Public in Türkiye. Otherwise, the translation will not be accepted.
- This explanation is general information, get information from your advisor about the admission requirements and the necessary documents in detail.

What is YÖS exam?

The YOS test, also known as YÖS in Turkish (Yabancı Öğrenci Sınavı), is an exam for bachelor's degree admission in Turkish public universities. It is administered by the Turkish Higher Education Council and public universities, following specific criteria and conditions for each institution.

Content and duration of the test

The YOS test assesses basic mathematical skills such as algebra and geometry, as well as intelligence through IQ questions. The test is composed of 35 algebra questions, 5 geometry questions, and 40 IQ questions, and aims to measure the student's general mathematical abilities and thinking skills. Test-takers can choose from several languages, including Arabic, English, Turkish, French, and Russian. The test duration ranges from 100 to 120 minutes, and the number and types of questions vary among universities.

Exam dates and fees

The test is usually held between March and August of each year by universities that announce their dates in advance, both within and outside Türkiye, and the dates may vary from one university to another. The test fee ranges from $20 to $150 and may differ according to the university and application center.

Do Turkish universities require the YOS test for admission?

The YOS test is mandatory in many Turkish public universities, with most universities accepting foreign students through this test. However, some public universities also accept foreign students through other international tests like the SAT, ACT, or IB, or the general secondary certificate. There are also universities that do not require the YOS test but instead accept the test certificate of other universities. For instance, the Istanbul University YÖS test can be applied to about 90 other universities.

What is the process for applying for the test?

To apply for the YOS test, you can register through authorized centers inside Türkiye or in several countries in cooperation with Turkish public universities.
