How We Work...

1 STUDYING

Receiving vision, ideas, designs, cut sheets, architect and ID file. Analyzing, estimating, and submitting technical and financial proposal, considering the market and quality.

2 DESIGNING

Moving deeply in the space together with client, producing renderings, specifying materials, calculating quantities, material boards, and drawing technical details... Finally preparing the design package.

3 PLANNING

Brainstorming and listing all ideas. Finalizing plans and furniture layout taking in consideration the efficiency of circulation and space using.

4 EXECUTING

Stepping on the site with the design package. Managing the works, supervising the quality, and applying ORWOOD experience on ground. Making client visions real.

What Makes Us... UNIQUE

Accuracy

ORWOOD are distinguished from the rest of the competitors in this field through our industry which relies on high precision because we use advanced technologies such as CNCs and thus ensure accuracy in production, high quality and speed to satisfy our customers in addition to the appropriate prices that we offer to customers.

Mastery

Ability to fabricate different types of creations and models according to the nature of each market and different customer requirements.

The long experience in the field increased ORWOOD's professionalism and flexibility in dealing with complexity.

ECO Friendly

Recently - there has been a growing interest in environmentally-friendly materials. As large number of people are beginning to take care of the so-called carbon footprint. With vases, jugs and chandeliers made from recycled materials, up to carpets woven from melted plastic yarns, to chairs made of wood on which rusty nail holes remained. There are some concepts that can guide us to choose environmentally friendly materials.

Creativity

Ability to create and implement designs that meet the wishes and aspirations of clients, each depending on nature, style and materials they desire. ORWOOD uses a variety of raw materials designs that vary depending on the size of the project, Furniture and furnishings vary from modern furniture to international standards - and traditional furniture inspired by local heritage.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

This is to certify and put on records that M/s ORWOOD (ORIENT PALACE BUILDING MATERIALS LLC), undertook and completed all the interior wood-works on a turn-key basis.

From timely supplies, installation and handover the ORWOOD team stood by us and completed the project in lines with the quality and timelines.

The quality of materials and workmanship is excellent and at par with best in the industry.

Their support during the project stage was remarkable and their turn-around after project handover was exemplary.

Their support to the hotel even after two years of handover, continues unabated.

We would readily and strongly recommend ORWOOD (PALACE BUILDING MATERIALS LLC) to any hotel and/or project for their works and support.

We would ourselves appreciate to use their expertise and services for our other projects that may come up in time.

METHOD STATEMENT

ORWOOD®

The method statement essential process based on contracting; comes in three main stages:

Pre-Award

Developing the offer:

- Understanding the customer's requirements and can deliver value for the contract.
- Developing a win strategy covering execution and risk mitigation plans.
- Submit a final offer.

Award

Negotiating & Signing the Contract:

- Contract drafting, negotiating and clarifying.
- Contract preparation by legal team to manage legal conformity, resolving any conflicts between the contracting parties as well as any final issues.
- Contract exchanged and signed.

Post-Award

Performance Monitoring and Contract End:

- Contract implementation with its financial conditions.
- Project Execution & fulfill all contract requirements.

Monitoring & Quality Control

- Implementation according to timeline schedule.

- Quality control is applied during the project workflow according to the phases:
  - Technical Study,
  - Project Implementation,
  - Delivery and Installation,
  - Handover,

Quality control can go beyond internal implementations to follow up with the customer to provide the correct instructions and procedures for external implementations.

Project Initiation

What, Who & How

- ①
  - What is the project scope?
  - What the project is aiming to achieve?
  - What are the project needs?

- ②
  - Who is going to be involved in managing the project, controlling the documents and what are their responsibilities?
  - Who are the project stakeholders?

- ③
  - How and when will the project be delivered?
  - How will risk be managed?
  - How will quality be managed?

Create a project charter or a project initiation document (PID):

- ❖ Describes the project in its entirety,
- ❖ What the project goals are? (using S.M.A.R.T. or C.L.E.A.R. methods.)
- ❖ How goals will be carried out?

Phase Objective:

- ❖ To define the project at a broad level.
- ❖ To decide if the project is a “go.”

Planning

Assign, Define & Plan

①

Assign Project HRs:

- PM,
- Team,
- roles and responsibilities,
- assignment of tasks.

②

Define Project Parameters:

- Scope Statement Defining:
  - milestones,
  - objectives,
  - key deliverables, with estimated due dates and essential deadlines.
- Work Breakdown Schedule (WBS) – breaking down the project scope into manageable sections for the team.
- Milestones – identifying high-level goals that need to be met throughout the project.
- Estimating costs.
- Project material table – determine the ready-made, raw and that need-to-be- installed materials.
- Shipments' estimation.
- Shipping methods.

Planning

Assign, Define & Plan

- ③ Plan the Project:
  - Setup the Project Plan:
    - the procurement of resources,
    - how to produce quality output,
  - Gantt Chart – plan out tasks and milestones on the project timeline.
  - Communication Plan – in case of the project involves outside stakeholders.
  - Risk Management Plan: carry out risk assessment and setting a plan to handle risks and unforeseen circumstances, i.e.: unrealistic time and cost estimates, changing requirements, and lack of committed resources.

- ④ Hold a kickoff meeting

Phase Objective:

- ❖ To focus on core keys to a successful project management.
- ❖ To lay out and develop the project roadmap that everyone will follow.

Technical Study

Study, Spec & Arrange

- Studying and analyzing of the project.
- Defining and approving the as built measurements.
- Defining and approving the site readiness.

- Quantities Survey.
- Drawings:
  - Shop drawings,
  - Sections,
  - Elevations.
- Approvals (if any)
  - Specs, Materials, Samples Approvals,
  - Drawing's Approvals,
  - Modification's, Variations Approvals.

- Tech Deliveries
  - BOQ,
  - Drawings,
  - Installation Guide (if any).
- Meet often and fix issues as they rise.

Phase Objective:

- ❖ Coming up with the project study and technical analysis, with the set related of documents.

Fulfilment

Tuned, Engage & Report

- 1 Prepare for trade-offs: Time, cost, and quality are the three related variables that typically dictate what you can achieve.

Quality = Time + Cost

- 2 Hold weekly team meetings,
- 3 Manage problems and fix issues as they rise.
- 4 Setting the Procurements &/or Production Plan.
  - Allocate and manage the project sources and resources for all materials and services required for the project,
  - Define priorities,
  - Build the material or process.
- 5 Logistic
  - Define shipments and delivery method,
  - Material Coding,
  - Packaging,
  - Shipping booking and loading.

Phase Objective:

- ❖ Complete the fulfillment of all project materials.
- ❖ Shipping the project.

# Hints #

- change any of these variables, and you change your outcome.
- such variables alterations often occur in the middle of a project.
- knowing from the start which variable is most important to each stakeholder will help making the right changes along the way.
- everyone should be informed of any tweaks and what the consequences will be in terms of time, cost, and quality.

Fulfilment

Logistic Management

Delivery & Installation

Receive, Arrange & Install

- 1
  - Assigning a site manager (Team).
  - Supervising and following the shipment.
- 2
  - Site managing, controlling and preparing.
  - On-site distribution.
- 3
  - Coordinating with any third party at site (i.e. MEP, Painting contractors, etc.)
  - Following and supporting the installation team.

Local Operations

Handover

How to Handle End Matters

Evaluate project performance:

- Checking if project meet its goals or no longer apply.
- Comparing progress with the scope everyone agreed on at the beginning.

- This will define how well the project has performed, and if there's still work to do.
- Discussing the findings with stakeholders, making sure reach consensus with them on
- how "finished" the project is.
- Keeping the scope front and center so everyone uses the same yardstick to measure success.

- Recognizing the team's efforts and accomplishments.

Close the project:

- Confirming delivering all of the deliverables (materials, documents hardcopies and/or softcopies).
- Confirm closing all related deals.
- Signing off the project, receipt and completion.

Phase Objective:

- ❖ Though some projects feel endless, they all, eventually, come to a close.
- ❖ Handover all of the project deliveries.
- ❖ Close the project.

After Sales

Care, Support & Advice

- Warranty services,
- Online support,
- Return/Replacement,
- Upgrades,

Best after-sales practices:

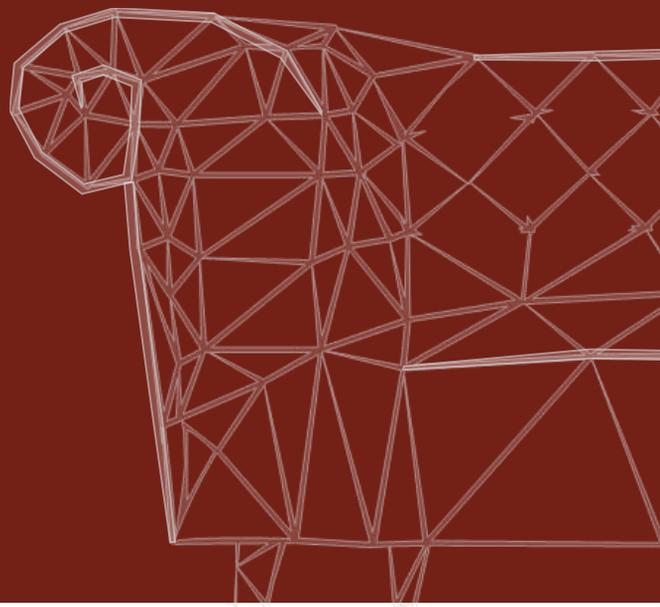

- Make the client feel valued,
- Streamline the service process,
- Build a positive atmosphere,
- Listen to client,
- Monitor and refine the performance.

"The more you wow your clients, the more they're likely to wow you right back with their loyalty and enthusiasm. Will become the brand ambassadors, reviewers, and trusted voices who'll give you great reviews"

Phase Objective:

- ❖ Satisfied, loyal and sustainable client.
- ❖ Enhance confidence in the company and its services.

HSE POLICY

ORWOOD®

At ORWOOD, we are committed to maintaining the highest standards of Health, Safety, and Environmental (HSE) management across all our projects.

Our policies are designed to ensure the safety and well-being of our employees, subcontractors, clients, and the surrounding environment.

We adhere to internationally recognized HSE regulations and best practices to mitigate risks, prevent workplace incidents, and promote a culture of safety and environmental responsibility.

General HSE Requirements

ORWOOD implements a proactive HSE management system that includes:

- A comprehensive HSE policy that aligns with international standards and local regulatory requirements.
- Risk assessments and hazard identification for all work activities to establish necessary control measures.
- Mandatory HSE training for all employees to ensure awareness and compliance with safety and environmental protocols.
- Provision and enforcement of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) based on job-specific risks.
- Regular safety audits and inspections to maintain compliance and continuously improve workplace safety.
- Emergency preparedness and response plans to effectively manage incidents and reduce their impact.

Occupational Health & Safety

- ORWOOD ensures a safe working environment by implementing a structured occupational health and safety program.
- Designated Health & Safety Officers are deployed based on workforce size to oversee safety measures and compliance.
- Employees are encouraged to participate in HSE programs and report unsafe conditions to foster a strong safety culture.

Environmental Responsibility

- ORWOOD is committed to reducing its environmental impact by implementing sustainable practices in material sourcing, waste management, and energy consumption.
- We comply with environmental regulations, minimize waste generation, and adopt eco-friendly solutions where possible.
- Waste disposal and hazardous material handling follow strict guidelines to prevent environmental contamination.

Subcontractor Compliance

All subcontractors and suppliers engaged by ORWOOD are required to adhere to our HSE policies and procedures. This includes:

- Having a documented HSE management system.
- Conducting regular risk assessments and implementing control measures.
- Ensuring all personnel are trained and equipped to comply with HSE requirements.
- Following safe work practices and environmental sustainability guidelines.

By integrating HSE principles into every aspect of our operations, ORWOOD ensures that safety, health, and environmental protection remain top priorities, supporting both regulatory compliance and operational excellence.

ABOUT OUR CODE & YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

TO WHOM THE CODE APPLIES

The Code of Business Conduct and Ethics (COBCE) provides the ethical guidelines and expectations for conducting business on behalf of ORWOOD, and its subsidiaries companies.

These entities are commonly referred to as “ORWOOD” or “the Company.” The COBCE applies to all employees and members of the Board of Directors of the Company. It also applies to individuals who serve the Company on contract, subcontract, retainer, consultant or any other such basis.

The COBCE further applies and covers the extended ORWOOD family comprising of Suppliers, service providers, external professionals, agents, channel partners (dealers, distributors and others) who serve as an extension of the Company. The extended ORWOOD family is also expected to adhere to the Company COBCE in equal measure while working for and on behalf of ORWOOD.

HOW TO USE THE CODE OF BUSINESS CONDUCT

The COBCE is designed to help employees and the extended family members of the Company to understand, recognize and deal with ethical issues which they may face from time to time while working for or on behalf of Company. ORWOOD’s policy is to comply with all applicable laws and regulations, to be committed to conducting business in an ethical manner and to act with integrity in dealing with our customers, suppliers, partners, competitors, employees and other stakeholders.

The COBCE is a guide to help whenever you have questions about ethics or if you are faced with an ethical dilemma. COBCE may not address all the situations which you may encounter and sometimes you may need expert views to understand and interpret the specific aspects dealt with under COBCE. In these situations, consult the ORWOOD policies (forming part of the Book of Policies) referenced throughout the COBCE.

EMPLOYEE RESPONSIBILITIES

ORWOOD is made up of multi-individuals, each with unique perspectives and aspirations. Though we are all different, we all share a common understanding of ethical conduct and more so the importance of “Unyielding Integrity.” Without having unchallengeable reputation for integrity, we would fail with customers and in our own eyes. We must strive to maintain the highest ethical standards.

In particular:

- Always act in a professional, honest, and ethical manner when acting on behalf of the Company.
- Be familiar with the information contained in the COBCE and the policies thereunder and pay attention to the policies that governs your job responsibilities.
- Complete all required employee trainings relating to COBCE in a timely manner and keep up to date on current standards and expectations.
- Promptly report concerns about possible violations of the COBCE to your manager, manager’s manager, HR manager, head of the business, any member of Senior Management, any member of the Legal Department.
- Cooperate and tell the whole truth when responding to an investigation or audit and never alter or destroy records in response to an investigation, or when an investigation is anticipated.

ETHICAL LEADERSHIP

If you are in a leadership position at ORWOOD, you are also expected to meet the following additional responsibilities:

- Lead by example ('walk the talk'). Managers are expected to exemplify the highest standards of ethical business conduct and to model the "Spirit of ORWOOD."
- Support implementation of ethics and business conduct programs of ORWOOD's values and ethical business conduct guidelines through such programs.
- Help create a work environment that focuses on building relationships. Recognize effort and value mutual respect and open communication.
- Communicate to employees and business partners (such as dealers, distributors, agents) about how the COBCE and policies apply to their daily work.
- Be proactive. Look for opportunities to discuss and address ethics and ethically challenging situations with team members.
- Create an environment where everyone feels comfortable asking questions and reporting potential violations of the COBCE and policies.
- Never ask another or pressure anyone to do something that is in violation of the COBCE.
- Be aware of the limits of your authority and do not take any action that exceeds those limits. Delegate authority only where permissible and never delegate authority to any individual who you believe may engage in unlawful conduct or unethical activities.
- If you supervise third parties, ensure that they understand COBCE.

MAKING THE RIGHT CHOICE

Making the right decision is not always easy. There will be times when you will be under pressure or unsure of what to do.

Always remember when you have a tough choice to make, you are not alone. Your fellow ORWOOD are available to help, and you have other resources to turn to including the COBCE.

When faced with a tough ethical decision it may help to pause and ask these questions. If you give a negative answer to even one question, consider a different action or seek help:

- Is it the right thing to do? Is it legal? Is it consistent with our policies?
- Have I considered all the options?
- Will my actions be consistent with the "Spirit of ORWOOD?"
- Will I be comfortable telling others about my decision?
- Can I honestly say I'd be proud of the choice I made?
- What is the possible impact of my actions on others, including fellow employees and stakeholders?

ASKING QUESTIONS AND RAISING CONCERNS

In today's complex business environment, it is inevitable that questions and ethics and compliance concerns will arise. The sooner ORWOOD leadership knows about possible problems, the sooner they can be addressed.

Each one of us is responsible to promptly raise issues or concerns about misconduct. If you become aware of conduct that you believe violates ORWOOD's policies, regulations, or the law, talk to your manager. If this seems inappropriate, or if you don't believe the person to whom you've reported your concern has taken appropriate action, you have several additional options:

Speak with your manager's manager or any member of Senior Management.

Contact the Legal Department or your HR manager.

In addition, if you have a question about a ORWOOD policy, you can send your query to: hr@orwood.com.

No form of retaliatory action will be taken against that employee raising a concern even if the same does not turn out to be true. But in raising the concern the employee is advised to exercise due care to ensure good faith.

PREVENTING RETALIATION

Managers must listen openly to concerns about misconduct, respond appropriately, and never retaliate against those who raise issues in good faith. Lack of content/expert knowledge could cause anxiety on an employee's part to believe it to be wrong—that's fine.

It is a violation of our policy and contrary to our values to engage in retaliatory acts against any employee who reports wrongdoing of any type, or any employee who testifies, assists or participates in a proceeding, investigation or hearing relating to allegations of misconduct.

ORWOOD takes claims of retaliation seriously. All such claims will be thoroughly investigated and if substantiated, retaliators will be disciplined up to and including termination. If you believe you have been retaliated against, you should report such action to the HR or use any of the reporting methods described in the COBCE.

ACCOUNTABILITY AND DISCIPLINE

Violating relevant laws, regulations, or the COBCE, or expecting or encouraging others to do so, exposes the Company to liability and puts the Company's reputation at risk. If an ethics or compliance problem does occur, you have an obligation to contact one of the resources listed in the COBCE so that an effective solution can be developed.

ORWOOD will take appropriate disciplinary action including up to termination against any employee, agent, contractor or consultant, whose actions are found to violate these policies or any other policies of ORWOOD.

The "Spirit of ORWOOD" enshrines the following principles: –

Be passionate about client's success

Treat each person with respect

Be global and responsible

Unyielding integrity in everything we do

ORWOOD, know that winning and success are only possible if we consistently act in the best interests of our clients, business partners and the public as a responsible corporate citizen with unyielding integrity.

ACTING IN THE BEST INTEREST OF OUR STAKEHOLDERS & PUBLIC

CUSTOMER RELATIONS

Our Standard

Customers purchase our services and products because they trust them. They trust the quality of our services and products, they trust their value, and they trust that we will stand behind what we sell and deliver. We must preserve that trust.

ORWOOD has a fundamental responsibility to ensure that customers have faith in the quality of our services and products. It is the primary responsibility of every employee to make sure that our services and products are consistently of the highest quality.

Our Responsibilities

Each of us must ensure that we follow our rigorous product safety and quality standards.

Any concerns about product safety or quality must be immediately reported. It is the job of every employee to make sure that consumers get what they expect—and pay for.

Do not create misleading impressions in any advertising, marketing, sales materials or presentations.

Do not make false or illegal claims about competitors or their services and products.

Promise what you can deliver and deliver on what you promise.

If you are in a leadership position at ORWOOD, you have an obligation to monitor the quality of our supply chain to ensure that the products we sell meet all external safety and quality standards, as well as our own high standards.

Marketing and Advertising

Advertising is an essential instrument for effective brand building and communicating with customers. We strive to ensure that all advertisements of ORWOOD's services and products are done ethically. All product claims and benefits must have been technically substantiated through research and requisite studies.

Our advertising must never misrepresent, deceive or be likely to mislead customers. Marketing and advertising of ORWOOD services and products must be truthful and accurate. False or unsubstantiated claims about competitors' offerings must never be made. Our advertising, packaging, displays and promotions must always be appropriate and sensitive to the culture of customers and the public in the country in which the advertising is shown, and we will avoid political or religious remarks in advertisements that may be offensive.

PROTECTING CUSTOMER INFORMATION

Our Standard

During our business operations, we often have access to personal and business confidential information related to customers and others. While protecting this information may now be a legal requirement, for us at ORWOOD, data privacy has always been a matter of trust and respect for others.

We respect the confidential information of our customers and others. Protecting their privacy and confidentiality is very important to us.

Our Responsibilities

Protect the confidentiality of personal and business information of current and former customers, as well as job applicants, business partners and customers.

Access and use of personal and business confidential information solely for legitimate business purposes and only if you have a need to know.

Return or destroy personal and business confidential information that is no longer required by you for business reasons in accordance with document retention provisions as defined and applicable under various laws as amended from time to time.

When sending personal and business confidential information across borders or to third parties, make sure that such transmissions are for legitimate business reasons and that they comply with local law. Also ensure that the recipient will safeguard the information.

Sensitive personal information, such as social security numbers, medical records, credit card and bank account numbers require special handling based on local law.

Do not forward customer or other business information and documents to personal email IDs (such as Gmail or Hotmail).

Do not use public file hosting services (such as Dropbox, SkyDrive, iCloud, Amazon Cloud Drive) to backup customer or other business information and documents.

SUPPLIER SELECTION

Our Standard

If you are in a leadership position at ORWOOD and work with our suppliers and business partners, you must ensure that they have received a copy of the Supplier Code of Conduct, or our contracts/POs executed with them adequately captures ‘Supplier’s Code of Conduct.’ Communicate to our suppliers our standards for high performance in ethics, anti-corruption, human rights, health, safety and the environment.

Be vigilant and watch out for any signs of our business partners violating applicable law or regulations, including local employment, anti-corruption, environmental, health and safety laws or in violation of ORWOOD’s COBCE.

Each of us who works with suppliers must make decisions in the best interest of ORWOOD and our customers based on performance criteria, not for any personal benefit or gain.

Cooperate with audits of suppliers and stop purchasing from those not making real progress towards meeting our standards.

Respect and protect the confidential and proprietary information of suppliers.

Document all supplier relationships in appropriate written contracts.

Disclose any situation that may appear to involve a conflict and remove yourself from making or influencing a purchasing decision.

Our Responsibilities

If you are in a leadership position at ORWOOD and work with our suppliers and business partners, you must ensure that they have received a copy of the Supplier Code of Conduct, or our contracts/POs executed with them adequately captures ‘Supplier’s Code of Conduct.’ Communicate to our suppliers our standards for high performance in ethics, anti-corruption, human rights, health, safety and the environment.

Be vigilant and watch out for any signs of our business partners violating applicable law or regulations, including local employment, anti-corruption, environmental, health and safety laws or in violation of ORWOOD’s COBCE.

Each of us who works with suppliers must make decisions in the best interest of ORWOOD and our customers based on performance criteria, not for any personal benefit or gain.

Cooperate with audits of suppliers and stop purchasing from those not making real progress towards meeting our standards.

Respect and protect the confidential and proprietary information of suppliers.

Document all supplier relationships in appropriate written contracts.

Disclose any situation that may appear to involve a conflict and remove yourself from making or influencing a purchasing decision.

Government Contracting

ORWOOD’s policy is to comply fully with all laws and regulations that apply to government contracting and transactions. It is also necessary to strictly adhere to all terms and conditions of any contract with central, local, state, federal, foreign, or other applicable governments. ORWOOD’s Legal Department must review and approve all contracts with any government entity to confirm this.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Our Standard

A conflict of interest occurs whenever you have a competing interest that may interfere with your ability to make an objective decision in the best interests of ORWOOD. Personal involvement including financial interests or dealings with competitors, clients, managers, subordinate employees or peers of ORWOOD that has the potential to affect the employee’s ability to exercise judgment in the best interests of ORWOOD creates an actual or potential conflict of interest.

Each of us is expected to use good judgment and avoid situations that can lead to even the appearance of a conflict. Conflicts of interest can undermine the trust others place in us and damage our reputation.

It is impossible to describe every potential scenario of conflict, which is why ORWOOD relies on each of us to uphold the high standard of “Unyielding Integrity” and to seek advice when needed. If you believe a conflict or potential conflict exists, discuss it with your manager, or HR.

Some examples of conflicts of interest are:

- Working directly or indirectly either as an officer, employee, consultant or agent for a competitor or client.
- Having a direct or indirect financial interest in a competitor or client or managers, or subordinate employees or peers of ORWOOD.
- An intimate personal relationship that develops at the workplace between a manager and subordinate.
- Engaging in an activity that is in competition with ORWOOD.
- Using proprietary or confidential information of ORWOOD for personal gain.
- Unauthorized use, or disclosure of information about our customers or business partners for personal advantage.
- Accepting an expensive gift, entertainment or business courtesy from a supplier or service provider that could potentially result in a conflict of interest in dealing with the supplier or service provider.

Family Member and Close Personal Relationships

As a rule, employees must avoid conducting any ORWOOD business with a relative (which includes a “significant other”) or a business in which a relative is associated in a key role. If such a related-party transaction is unavoidable, the employee must fully disclose the nature of the related-party transaction to his/her HR manager.

Members of an employee’s immediate family and those in a close personal relationship may be considered for employment based on their qualifications and they may be hired if such employment would not create manager-subordinate relationship. If a close personal relationship exists or develops between two employees, both employees involved must bring this to the attention of their manager and HR manager. Attempts will be made to find a suitable resolution in the form of job segregation.

Personal Investments and Corporate Opportunities

Employees may not own, either directly or indirectly, a substantial interest in any business that does or seeks to do business with, or is in competition with ORWOOD, without written approval of the CFO.

Employees are also prohibited from making personal business or investment opportunities that are discovered during their work at ORWOOD.

Outside Employment

While it is not the intent of ORWOOD to unduly restrict the activities of employees on their own time, employees may not work for or receive payments for services from any business whether it competes with ORWOOD’s business or not.

A conflict of interest will also arise if an employee opts for outside work, including self-employment or commercial pursuit of hobbies and interests since it will interfere with the employee’s ability to fulfil his or her responsibilities to ORWOOD.

Volunteer or Charitable Work

On a case-by-case basis, employees may be permitted to work for non-profit/not-for-profit organizations, clubs and charitable institutions provided prior disclosure is made to the HR manager. The employee must ensure that the services they provide do not affect ORWOOD’s interest or reputation. The employee must not accept remuneration for any service rendered except reimbursement of reasonable and customary expenses.

Our Responsibilities

Avoid conflict of interest situations whenever possible.

Discuss with your manager full details of any situation that could be perceived as a potential conflict of interest. Your manager may require you to disclose the situation to your HR manager or Legal Department for appropriate resolution.

Proactively address situations that may put your interests or those of a family member or others in potential conflict with ORWOOD.

GIFTS, ENTERTAINMENT & BUSINESS COURTESIES

Our Standard

In many industries and countries, gifts and entertainment are used to strengthen business relationships. For ORWOOD, one principle is always clear: we do not accept or provide gifts, favors, or entertainment if the intent is to influence a business decision.

No employee shall give, offer and promise to offer, or authorize the offer, directly or indirectly, of anything of value (such as money, securities, goods or services) to government officials, customers, potential customers, foreign officials including officials of any public international organizations or any other entity which could be regarded as influencing any business decision or obtaining improper advantage. Employees shall neither use business courtesies to attempt to improperly influence the decisions of our customers or other third parties nor provide such courtesies in violation of the law or customer's internal policies.

Gifts, entertainment, and business courtesies are only to be offered or accepted if all of the following conditions are met:

- It cannot be reasonably construed as payment or consideration for influencing or rewarding a decision or action.
- It cannot be offered when there is an ongoing active business negotiation.
- It is justifiable when offered or accepted, i.e. it is reasonable, customary or is generally offered as an industrial practice.
- It does not violate customer's policies and applicable laws.
- Its public disclosure would not embarrass ORWOOD.
- Accepting occasional gifts and entertainment may be appropriate when developing business relationships. However, they should never be lavish or in excess of the generally accepted business practices of the country or industry.

Employees and agents acting on ORWOOD's behalf must never offer a gift of any kind to anyone doing business with ORWOOD or seeking to do business with ORWOOD that is not within the Acceptable Limit. Standard corporate gifts with the ORWOOD logo can be offered as an acceptable business practice to private customers provided the conditions mentioned above are met.

However, for gifts other than standard corporate gifts, employees are encouraged to refer to the internal Books of Policies for limits and approval matrix.

No other manner of gifting is permissible except as specifically set out above. In particular the following are strictly prohibited:

- Accepting or offering cash or cash equivalent (gift vouchers, gift cheques/checks, shares, etc.).
- Employee using own money or resources to pay for gifts.

- Organizing for the gift to be offered indirectly through a third party.
- Gifting of alcohol (e.g., wine).
- Charitable contributions or donations are permitted only to registered charitable organizations as per internal guidelines and processes.

Our Responsibilities

Only offer or accept gifts, entertainment or business courtesies that are reasonable compliments to business relationships.

Exchange gifts, entertainment or business courtesies that foster goodwill in business relationships, but never provide any that obligates or appears to obligate the recipient.

Do not request or solicit personal gifts, entertainment, or business courtesies.

Accepting gifts of cash or cash equivalents is strictly prohibited.

Understand and comply with the policies of the recipient's organization before offering or providing gifts, entertainment or business courtesies. Report correctly in expense reports, all expenses for any gifts, entertainment or business courtesies provided and accurately state the purpose for the expenditure.

If you are offered a gift that has a value over the Acceptable Limit, you cannot "buy the gift down" to the Acceptable Limit.

Do not commit to any donation requests from customers without first obtaining internal approvals even if the donation is for a charitable cause. At the request of a customer, you cannot make any donations from your own funds or pay for gifts and claim reimbursement from ORWOOD. Prior written approval must be taken.

COMMUNICATING WITH THE PUBLIC

Our Standard

We are committed to transparency in our disclosures and public communications. ORWOOD needs a clear, consistent voice when providing information to the public and the media. For this reason, it is important that only authorized persons speak on behalf of the Company. Never give the impression that you are the official spokesperson of the Company in any communication that may become public if you are not authorized to do so.

Our Responsibilities

If you receive an inquiry regarding ORWOOD's activities, results, plans or its position on public issues and you are not specifically authorized to respond, refer the request to PR Department.

No person other than the members of the PR Department or any other person who are authorized to speak from Business Units of ORWOOD should communicate.

If you intend to write or publish a book, article or manuscript or deliver a presentation which relates in any way to ORWOOD's business, you must receive prior approval of your manager and HR manager. If the publication or presentation identifies you as an employee of ORWOOD, it must state that: "The views expressed in this article/presentation are mine and ORWOOD does not subscribe to the substance, veracity or truthfulness of my views."

If you are aware of any unauthorized employee contact with media or analysts, on-record or off-record, immediately inform PR Departments.

SOCIAL MEDIA AND NETWORKING

Our Standard

Social media sites are popular platforms for communication and interaction. ORWOOD supports the rights of its employees to express themselves freely through social networks, blogs, wikis, chat rooms, comment forums, and other online locales. However, employees must remember to be cautious when such activity involves information about ORWOOD or may adversely affect the image of ORWOOD, its customers and business partners.

All ORWOOD employees are expected to conduct themselves professionally in their online activities and to respect and protect the reputation of ORWOOD, its customers, and business partners. All rules which apply to offline conduct also apply to online comments, postings and other communications. Employees must also bear in mind that unwarranted postings on social media may also result into breach of confidentiality obligations by an employee.

ORWOOD reserves the right to review and monitor the online activities of its employees when they are relevant to the Company, as well as any online communications made using Company resources (computers, phones, tablets, data cards, etc.). If ORWOOD perceives that such online activity is in violation of Company policies, appropriate investigation and action will be taken.

Our Responsibilities

- Always be mindful of ORWOOD’s ethical standards and comport yourself professionally in all ORWOOD-related communications. Remember—things you post online will be publicly available for a long time, so before you click “Send” or “Submit,” think carefully and review.
- Always obey any laws governing your online activities.
- Never give the impression that you are speaking on behalf of ORWOOD unless you are authorized to do so.
- Always identify yourself and be clear, when your online activities are relevant to ORWOOD, that the views you are expressing are your own and do not represent the opinion of ORWOOD.
- Refrain from posting confidential non-public or proprietary information online.
- Never post any details online about ORWOOD’s customers or business partners, including on professional networking sites such as LinkedIn.
- Don’t use social media for any activity to which others are likely to object, or which violates the COBCE or its values as explained in the “Spirit of ORWOOD” In particular, do not:
  - Spam using email or send unsolicited messages.
  - Defame, abuse, harass, stalk, threaten or otherwise violate the legal and privacy rights of companies or people.
  - Post messages which contain racially or sexually offensive material, political or religious solicitations or anything else which is inappropriate or has the potential to cause harm to ORWOOD or its customers and business partners.
- Remember that some information or statements are considered “material non-public information,” “unpublished price-sensitive information” or “forward-looking statements.” Sharing or posting such information may be a violation of policy and relevant legislations and may invite punitive actions by the company or the Govt. enforcement agencies. Examples of such information include data on ORWOOD's business performance whether actual or anticipated in future, new markets, new customers, management changes, etc.

PROTECTING OUR INFORMATION AND ASSETS

One of the major concerns in the present information technology era is protection of confidential and personal information that is collected and disseminated. For ORWOOD, protection of confidential information rests on our pledge to act with sensitivity and to demonstrate respect for the individual.

It is simple: when we take action to safeguard confidential information and Company assets that have been entrusted to us, we are delivering on our commitments and living up to the assurances we have made to others.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Our Standard

One of our most valuable assets is information pertaining to ORWOOD or the information of third parties who deals with ORWOOD.

The unauthorized release of confidential information can cause irreparable damage to ORWOOD in many ways such as to lose a critical competitive advantage, embarrass the Company, damage our relationships with customers and others etc. For these reasons, confidential information must be accessed, stored, and transmitted in a manner consistent with ORWOOD's policies and procedures.

Each of us must be vigilant to safeguard ORWOOD's confidential information as well as third parties' confidential information that is entrusted to us. We must keep it secure, limit access to those who have a need to know in order to do their job and avoid discussion of confidential information in public areas.

The obligation on an employee to preserve ORWOOD's confidential information is perpetual and survives the end of employment with ORWOOD.

"Confidential information" includes but is not limited to the following:

- Client lists, vendor lists, client agreements, and vendor agreements
- Trade secrets and inventions
- Computer programs and related data and materials
- Drawings, file data, documentation, diagrams, and specifications
- Know-how, processes, formulas, models, and flow charts
- Software completed or in various stages of development, source codes, and object codes
- Research and development procedures and test results
- Marketing techniques, materials and development plans, price lists, pricing policies, business plans
- Financial information and projections
- Employee files and other information related to human resources and benefits systems and content

Our Responsibilities

- Use and disclose confidential information only for legitimate business purposes on "need to know basis."

- Properly label confidential information to indicate how it should be handled, distributed and destroyed.
- Protect intellectual property and confidential information by sharing it only with authorized parties.
- Never discuss confidential information when others might be able to overhear what is being said, e.g. when using mobile phones.
- Be careful not to send confidential information to unattended fax machines or printers.
- Follow empty pocket declaration policy while joining or leaving the organization.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Our Standard

We have an obligation to identify and protect the intellectual property, trade secrets and other confidential information owned by ORWOOD, our customers, and business partners. Doing so is critical to our success.

Intellectual property or IP refers to business methods, trademarks, service marks, trade names, copyrightable subject matter and trade secrets whether belonging to ORWOOD or to third parties dealing with ORWOOD. We must all be aware of and comply with ORWOOD procedures necessary to safeguard these assets, including complying with any agreement relating to IP and confidentiality agreements signed upon the commencement of or during employment.

In addition to protecting ORWOOD’s own intellectual property rights, ORWOOD respects the valid intellectual property rights of others.

Our Responsibilities

All employees are responsible for complying with the requirements of software copyright licenses.

Employees must use proprietary material of others only under valid license and only in accordance with the terms of such a license—this includes the use of software.

Only use software that has been properly licensed in line with the usage terms and conditions in the license agreement. The copying or use of unlicensed or “pirated” or “cracked” software on Company computers or other equipment to conduct Company business is strictly prohibited.

Unauthorized receipt or use of the intellectual property of others may expose ORWOOD to civil lawsuits and damages. Employees are advised to strictly follow all ORWOOD procedures, including those governing the appropriate handling of unsolicited intellectual property.

Do not use copyrighted materials without appropriate permission. Keep in mind that all content such as pictures, videos, and articles available online could be copyrighted and cannot be copied or used without written approval from the copyright owners, even if it is for internal training purposes.

Always consult the Legal Department whenever an IP issue is involved or whenever you are not clear on the course of action to be taken.

Do not download unauthorized music or video on ORWOOD resources or stream unauthorized music or video using ORWOOD’s networks or our customers’.

The prior approval of the IT team and Legal Department is required to download “freeware” or “free-trial” third-party software or “shareware programs” from the internet.

PROTECTING PERSONAL INFORMATION AND THE PRIVACY OF EMPLOYEES

Our Standard

In recent years, individuals, companies, and governments have grown increasingly concerned about the privacy and security of personal information. In many countries and cultures around the world, people have deeply held beliefs on the topic and as a result, laws protecting the privacy of personal information and how it may be collected, shared and used are becoming more common. We have a responsibility to protect the confidential and personal information of our fellow ORWOOD and others.

Our Responsibilities

- All employees and contractors are accountable for protecting personal information and for handling it securely.
- Collect personal information only for legitimate business purposes and keep it only as long as necessary.
- Take adequate precautions to safeguard personal information when collecting, processing, storing and transferring it.
- Only share personal information with other employees or external agencies who have a legitimate need to know and take steps to ensure that they understand the importance of properly handling the data you share with them.
- When we use third parties to provide services for us, make sure that they understand the importance we place on privacy and that they must uphold our standards.
- When appropriate, allow employees whose personal data is held by the Company to review and correct such information.
- Follow all document retention and document destruction requirements.

DOCUMENT MANAGEMENT AND LEGAL HOLDS

Each of us is responsible for information and records under our control. We must be familiar with the recordkeeping procedures that apply to our jobs and we are accountable for the accuracy and truthfulness of the records we produce. It is also our responsibility to keep our records organized so that they can be located and retrieved when needed.

Documents should never be destroyed in response to or in anticipation of an investigation or audit. Contact the Legal Department if there is any doubt about the appropriateness of document destruction.

A “legal hold” suspends all document destruction procedures in order to preserve appropriate records under certain circumstances, such as litigation or government investigations. The Legal Department determines and identifies what types of ORWOOD records or documents are required to be placed under a legal hold. Every ORWOOD employee, agent and contractor must comply with this requirement. The Legal Department will notify employees if a legal hold is placed on records for which they are responsible. If employees have any questions about this, they shall contact the Legal Department.

SAFEGUARDING COMPANY ASSETS

Our Standard

To best serve our customers we all have a responsibility to use ORWOOD’s assets and resources wisely and with care. All employees are responsible for using good judgment to safeguard the tangible and intangible assets of ORWOOD, and to ensure that our assets are not misused, damaged, lost, stolen, or wasted.

Company assets include ORWOOD's physical facilities, property and equipment, electronic communication devices, intellectual property, confidential information, files and documents, as well as inventory, computer networks, and supplies.

Our Responsibilities

Use ORWOOD assets for legitimate business purposes.

Personal use of Company assets should be incidental and kept to a minimum and should have no adverse impact on productivity and the work environment.

Do not use ORWOOD equipment or systems, including email and the internet, to download, create, store or send content that others might find offensive. or for illegal purposes

Report any suspicions you may have concerning theft, embezzlement, or misappropriation of any Company property.

Any suspected loss, misuse or theft of ORWOOD's assets must be reported to your manager or HR manager.

Our Policy on Password Use

The ethical guidance on password sharing under the disciplinary handbook as well as under the COBCE put together prohibits any one or all of the following practices:-

- Sharing of passwords such as access passwords, banking passwords or keys with another person.
- Non-compliance with ORWOOD's password security requirements such as periodically changing access passwords etc.

FOLLOWING THE LETTER AND THE SPIRIT OF LAWS AND REGULATIONS

Compliance with laws, regulations and contractual obligations is the bedrock on which organizations are built. Compliance with the highest order of governance and ethics has been a hallmark of ORWOOD and will continue to be non-negotiable. We pride ourselves in upholding the "Spirit of ORWOOD" and we consistently demonstrate our values in our actions.

ANTI-TRUST AND FAIR COMPETITION OUR STANDARD

We believe in free and open competition, and we never engage in improper practices that may limit competition through illegal and unfair means. We do not enter into agreements with competitors to engage in any anticompetitive behavior, including setting prices or dividing up customers, suppliers, or markets.

As ORWOOD's has a global business interests a, ORWOOD may be subject to competition laws of various jurisdictions. Most countries have well-developed bodies of law designed to encourage and protect free and fair competition. ORWOOD is committed to adhering to these laws both in letter and spirit. These laws often regulate ORWOOD's relationships with our distributors, resellers, dealers and customers.

Our Responsibilities

Anti-trust laws are very complex, and the risks associated with non-compliance can be severe. If you have questions or if you believe an activity undertaken by ORWOOD or one of our business partners may be viewed as restraining fair competition, consult with the Legal Department.

Never participate in conversations with competitors that could be perceived as limiting competition. As a rule, contact with competitors should be limited and must always avoid certain subjects including any matter relating to competition between ORWOOD and its competitor, such as sales prices, marketing strategies, market shares and allocation of market, territories, supply and sources or customers. If such a conversation begins, leave the meeting immediately and report it to the Legal Department.

Never disparage our competitors or their products. Do not make false or misleading statements about them and ensure that all sales and promotional efforts are free from misrepresentations.

Never enter into agreements with competitors that affect prices they charge, as they may constitute illegal price-fixing.

Never enter into any agreements that are in restraint of trade, prices, quality of products or services or in any manner monopolize any part of trade or commerce by controlling the supply of a product or service with the intention to control its price or to exclude competitors from the market.

Never initiate, discuss or encourage boycotts of specific products or services of customers or suppliers.

ANTI-CORRUPTION

Our Standard

ORWOOD conducts its business free from the influence of corruption and bribery. Employees and business partners are expected to be aware of and follow all anti-corruption and anti-bribery laws everywhere we do business. Employees must be careful to avoid even the appearance of offering or accepting an improper payment, bribe or kickback.

It is important that intermediaries and third parties who are operating on our behalf shall adhere to the anti-corruption and anti-bribery laws of the country where they operate as well be fully compliant with ORWOOD set standards. We must exercise due diligence to ensure that their reputation, background and abilities are appropriate and meet our ethical standards. Intermediaries are expected to act in accordance with the requirements set out in this Code. We must never do anything through a third party that we are not allowed to do by ourselves (“Proxy Bribing”).

Our Responsibilities

Do not offer, provide or promise to offer or authorize bribes or kickbacks, under any circumstances. There is no difference between “offer to bribe” and “actual bribe”.

Always be sure to perform due diligence and know your business partner, consultants, agents and all those through whom we conduct our business. Know who they are, what they do, where they are based and how they will use our services and products.

Never maintain “off-book” accounts in order to conceal improper payments. All expenditures and any other payments must be accurately presented in ORWOOD’s books and records.

Payments that are intended to improperly influence a government official must never be made. Any payments made to expedite routine government actions would also be construed as improper payments. Government officials include employees of government companies, public sector undertakings, departments, institutions of any government, and foreign officials including officials of public international organizations.

ORWOOD does not make contributions to any political party. Also, no employee may make a political contribution, whether in cash or otherwise on behalf of ORWOOD.

POLITICAL INVOLVEMENT

Our Standard

ORWOOD respects the rights of employees to voluntarily participate in the political process which any person as citizen of the country is entitled to.

Employees must always make it clear that their views and actions are their own and not those of the Company and employees must never use ORWOOD resources to support their personal choice of political parties, causes or candidates.

Our Responsibilities

- Take steps to ensure that your individual political opinions and activities are not viewed as those of ORWOOD.
- You cannot commit ORWOOD to any corporate political spending, donating products, services, transportation, etc.
- Never pressure another employee, customer or business partner to contribute to, support or oppose any political group or candidate.

GLOBAL TRADE

Our Standard

Many laws govern the conduct of trade across borders, including laws that are designed to ensure that transactions are not being used for money laundering, others that prohibit companies from illegal trade boycotts, as well as laws regulating exports.

We are committed to complying with all such laws that are applicable in the countries in which we operate. Each of us is responsible for knowing the laws that apply to our jobs and seeking expert advice if in doubt about the legality of an action.

Our Responsibilities

Maintain appropriate import, export and customs records at each ORWOOD business location.

Seek guidance from the Legal Department to ensure that shipments of information, products or software across borders comply with laws governing imports and exports.

To help prevent and detect money laundering and terrorist financing, watch for any suspicious payments, which may include cash or the equivalent (where cheques/checks or wire-transfers are the norms); payments made from personal accounts instead of business accounts.

Always consult the Legal Department before initiating business in a country new to ORWOOD .

PERFORMANCE THROUGH TEAMWORK AND RESPECT 23

ORWOOD employ individuals and we work with business partners who represent a rich variety of backgrounds, skills, and cultures. Combining this wealth of resources creates the diverse and collaborative teams that consistently drive our achievements.

To attract and retain talented and dynamic individuals from around the world, it is vital to have a supportive work environment, based on mutual respect. ORWOOD always encourages and promotes favorable employment conditions and positive relationships between employees and managers, and we encourage open communication and employee development.

Living our values helps our Company succeed, and it also creates the setting for each of us to thrive and to reach our full potential.

Following are some of the key areas where we must be guided by in our commitment to the “Spirit of ORWOOD”

HUMAN RIGHTS

Our Standard

ORWOOD prohibits any act of human trafficking, slavery, servitude, and forced or compulsory labor throughout the organization, its business, and its supply chain.

We support fundamental human rights for all people. We will live up to and champion a commitment to human rights among our employees, business partners and suppliers, and comply with the applicable laws in every country in which we operate.

Child Labor

ORWOOD will not use, nor do we support others who use child labor. ORWOOD also recognizes that this evil cannot be eradicated by simply setting up rules or inspections.

Towards this end, ORWOOD is committed to work in a proactive manner to eradicate child labor by actively contributing to the improvement of children’s social situation. ORWOOD supports the use of legitimate workplace apprenticeships, internships and other similar programs that comply with all laws and regulations applicable to such programs.

ORWOOD encourages its suppliers to also work towards a no child-labor policy and we encourage the employment of the parents of such children to secure the existence of the family and the education of the children.

Freedom of Association

ORWOOD respects the right of employees to exercise their lawful right of free association and we recognize the rights of our employees to choose or not choose to be represented by trade unions. It is ORWOOD’s expectation that our suppliers would also do the same.

Abolition of Forced Labor

ORWOOD prohibits forced or compulsory labor including prison or bonded labor. We will not tolerate physical punishment or abuse and we are committed to ensuring that employees enter into employment and stay on in ORWOOD out of their own free will.

We also insist that our suppliers prohibit forced labor or other compulsory labor in all of their operations.

Our Responsibilities

- Understand relevant laws and regulations that apply to your work, and never intentionally engage in conduct that violates applicable laws and regulations.
- Be alert to changes in the law or new requirements that may affect your work.
- If you are in a leadership position at ORWOOD, take steps to ensure that suppliers know our standards and live up to them.
- Be vigilant and look out for any signs of violation of human rights or employment laws.
- Report any suppliers and business partners who keep alternative sets of payroll records or do not welcome audits, inspections or on-site visits.

DIVERSITY AND NON-DISCRIMINATION

Our Standard

ORWOOD's greatest asset is our employees. We believe that every employee deserves the opportunity to work and grow in a congenial environment where everyone can work without any inhibition, and free of discrimination and harassment.

We are committed to attracting, retaining, and developing the highest quality and most dedicated work force possible in today's market. We understand that when diversity is embraced, we benefit from the creativity, varied perspectives and increased innovation.

ORWOOD hires and promotes people based on their qualifications, performance and abilities, and is determined to provide a work environment free of any form of discrimination.

Our Responsibilities

- Treat others with sensitivity.
- Co-operate with any measures introduced to develop equal opportunities.
- Never take discriminatory action or make decisions which are contrary to the letter or spirit of this policy.
- If you supervise others, you have additional responsibilities to:
  - Ensure that those who work in your team know that you are available to address any concerns that they may have about discrimination or harassment.
  - Make employment-related judgments based solely on performance and abilities. Avoid introducing unrelated considerations into your decisions. Use objective, quantifiable standards.
  - Make merit-based appraisal of your reports.
  - Review your decisions to ensure that objective merit and business considerations drive your actions.

HARASSMENT-FREE WORKPLACE

Our Standard

ORWOOD is committed to maintaining a workplace where each employee's personal dignity is respected and protected from offensive or threatening behavior including violence.

At ORWOOD, we believe that everyone has the right to work in an environment that is free from intimidation, harassment and abuse. We understand that harassment and abuse undermine the integrity of employment relationships and can cause serious harm to productivity, efficiency and a harmonious workplace.

For these reasons, ORWOOD does not tolerate verbal or physical conduct by any employee that harasses another, disrupts another's work performance, or creates an intimidating, offensive, abusive or hostile work environment. This includes such behavior directed towards third parties during the course of conducting ORWOOD business.

At ORWOOD we do not tolerate:

- Threatening remarks, obscene phone calls, stalking or any other form of harassment.
- Causing physical injury to another.
- Intentionally damaging someone else's property or acting aggressively in a manner that causes someone else to fear injury.
- Threatening, intimidating, or coercing other employees on or off the premises—at any time, for any purpose.
- Carrying weapons in the workplace. This includes not only our facilities, but also parking lots, guest houses and alternate work locations maintained by ORWOOD.

If you become aware of conduct relating to sexual harassment, you have the option to raise your concern with the Prevention of Sexual Harassment Committee.

Our Responsibilities

- Speaking out when a co-worker's conduct makes others uncomfortable.
- Do not tolerate sexual harassment including requests for sexual favors, or other unwelcome verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.
- Demonstrate professionalism at the workplace.
- Promote a positive attitude towards policies designed to build a safe, ethical and professional workplace.
- Report all incidents of intimidation, harassment and abuse that may compromise our ability to work together and be productive.

SAFE AND HEALTHY WORK ENVIRONMENT

Our Standard

ORWOOD promotes employee well-being as a strategic value and fundamental component of its success, and we define well-being as more than what is traditionally thought of as occupational health and safety.

ORWOOD takes appropriate measures to prevent workplace injuries and ill health and to provide employees with a safe and healthy working environment by considering evolving industry practices and societal standards of care.

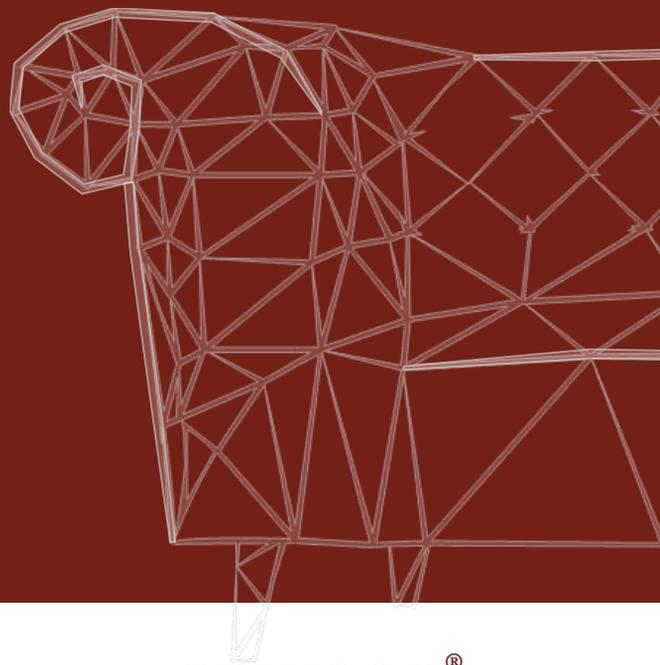

ORWOOD is proactive and actively assesses and manages the health and safety impact, and possible risks associated with our existing activities as well as when planning for new activities, production of services and products.

We are committed to providing a safe and healthy workplace for colleagues and visitors to our facilities.

Our Responsibilities

- Each of us is responsible for acting in a way that protects ourselves and others. Situations that may pose a health, safety or environmental hazard must be reported immediately.
- Take appropriate measures to help identify, assess and manage the environment impacts of our existing and planned operations.
- Maintain a neat, safe working environment by keeping workstations, aisles and other workspaces free from obstacles, wires and other potential hazards.
- Notify your manager immediately about any unsafe equipment, or any situation that could pose a threat to health or safety or damage the environment. All employees have the right and responsibility to stop any work they feel may be unsafe.
- Do not use, possess or be under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs or any substance that could interfere with a safe and effective work environment, or improperly use medication in any way that could diminish your ability to perform your job.
